

The Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering has suspended the two minor programs in Mechanical Engineering and Aerospace Engineering effective June 1, 2013.

Students that have already declared and have been accepted into either of the minor programs in mechanical or aerospace engineering will be allowed to complete the program requirements.